

Tony:

Just finished an 8 hour service and they wanted to keep going. Now we are eating some fresh roasted corn, just picked this morning and cooked on open fire. Yummie. Oh yeah, they have fried grasshoppers here also and Fredrick loves them AND it is mango season and they are everywhere. For those that would like to know our meal today is: beans, white rice, roasted baby eggplants, beef nuggets, ungali, one freshly killed and fried chicken, bananas, ginger tea.

The biggest church in this village was packed out today, hundreds and hundreds of people. I sensed Holy Spirit wanting the ministry of liberation or deliverance to be brought forth today. That He wanted His children to get some bread today. After solidifying our position of authority Holy Spirit started chipping away at the lies of the enemy and setting His kids free. Wow, the looks on faces as they experienced getting free from so much stuff.

After having them pray for each other to go thru deliverance, they started giving testimony of what had just happened. For some it was sickness that just left them when they got free, without even praying for the sickness to go. The people were amazed at what God was doing and how easy it is to get and stay free. There was testimony of minds that were instantly cleared with amazement that their mind was still and at peace without all the confusion. Testimonies of how worry and anxiety has finally lifted off of them, many mental conditions lifted off, many sicknesses lifted off. There were those that testified that during the service they got headaches and tired and even dizzy BUT when we exposed what the enemy was doing and used our authority they said it was as if "I just woke up!"

How about this: a 4 year old boy that has never walked, momma goes thru deliverance and her boy starts walking for the first time. Go ahead and wrap your head around that! Glory to God!

We then invited anyone up for prayer. Wow, every last person ran to the front. People were shaking, vibrating, crying, clearly being moved. Some were demonic manifestations. This was a real bad day for the devil. One lady was screaming and shaking wildly. Even after the teaching today, some of the people tried to restrain her. A pastor quickly came over and told all to take their hands off her. She was just left alone screaming until one of the pastors and I went over to her. He put his mouth to her ear and softly spoke shutting the demon down. After about 1 minute, the manifestation stopped, she opened her eyes and with tears said "I AM FREE!" Sovereignly, God did it all. She said, "I am so happy!"

Well, one after another came with some sort of deliverance need. So many terrorized by demons, set free today. Just about whatever deliverance need you can think of, we saw met by Our Loving Lord today.

Casey:

Wow it's hard to believe its Sunday already the time is going by so fast here. So much is happening all around us all the time, but no matter what, we are winning the battle. This morning's service was on deliverance not your normal Sunday church service, but really needed. The teaching was well received by everyone and they all seemed to understand it. We even gave them a demonstration on what deliverance looks like and just how easy it is. When we finished we had them team up with a partner and take turns taking each other through deliverance. Then we had any one that needed prayer to come up. Wow the whole church came up I thought we were going to be praying for hours. I prayed for a ton of people and of course I got the youth section. So I did a lot of praying for their schooling and for the upcoming exams. I did get to pray for some healing too like leg pain, chest and back pain, and some headaches. All of them were healed instantly. I also had a few deliverances to pray for as well. In all it was a great morning. Thanks again for all your prayers.

One of the testimonies that was shared this morning was from the crusade last night. This was one of the women that was having pain in her ovaries and also had a cough. We thought she said she had the cough for five years but today we found out it was for twenty five years. No matter she was healed anyways. Just wanted to set the record straight Praise God.

Fredrick:

There was a woman that was suffering all over her body. She could hardly see and her eyes were paining and very red. Legs, back, chest everything bad pain. I just started praying and asked her, "how are you feeling" that I would see what was happening and then continue to pray. To my surprise she said "I am totally healed!" I looked at her smiling with the redness all gone out of her eyes and praised God.

Many of the people had similar: back, chest, leg problems ALL healed!

A woman brought her son; he was so weak he could hardly walk on his own. After prayer he started jumping and saying that he was so strong now. Momma was amazed at what God had done.

EVENING CRUSADE:

Tony:

We are so thankful for your prayers. The kingdom of God is advancing in the earth thru your prayers.

It was an awesome God day today. I know only eternity will tell all that God did. The praise was wild. These Ugandan people can really dance. I think they were created part rubber. It is a sight to see. There was so much joy, so much life, so much excitement, the atmosphere was electric. Casey is blossoming into quite an evangelist as he led tonight. Casey and I felt tonight the plans of the Lord would be different in that we would give many words of knowledge. When their life situation is called out then they come, otherwise they seem to hold back somewhat at prayer time. As we gave one word after another, the people kept coming until there were so many we knew to start praying. Tonight the muslims were coming for prayer and then receiving Jesus after they were touched by the loving healing power of Jesus. One after another, it was amazing to see. Here's how it went: We would say, "what is you need God to do for you?", here is what one lady said, but they were all similar: "I cannot move my arm without pain and my neck is stiff." We say "Jesus is the healer and He will heal you, have you seen Him touching people, do you want to receive Him as your Savior?" She says "no, I am a muslim, I just want to be healed!" OK, we say, we will pray in Jesus Name. We pray and then ask her to stretch her arm out and move her neck. She does and smiles real big and says "I am well; all the pain has been removed!" We say "that was Jesus, you know! Are you ready to receive Him now? She says, Oh yes, I want Jesus to come to me. And we pray and another child comes into the kingdom of God. This happened so many times tonight I cannot count. All Glory to God!

There were others praying tonight I do not know about, but some of what I saw:

- I had 3 mothers that brought their little babies. The first could not sit up at the age of one, two had eating problems and 3 mothers had leg issues. Now I did the same dumb thing with all 3. The mothers were all instantly healed then I asked how the babies were doing. All 3 mothers looked at me like I was nuts and said "my baby doesn't talk yet, we will have to wait and see!"
- This was cool. A few young muslims that had difficulty lifting their arms due to shoulder problems. They get saved and healed and the first thing they do when they are able to lift their arms is to praise Jesus.
- I had one after another, mostly men that wanted prayer for overt demonic attacks against them, especially at night. They were talking of how the demons were pushing them down into their beds so they couldn't move. We got them saved, then got them set free and gave them all a little lesson on standing in the position of authority in Jesus Name. There were ready to go home and knock out the next demon that came against them.
- A young boy came and said that he couldn't see out of his left eye. You could see he was pretty stressed over the whole thing. We prayed and it was instant, the sight was fully restored.
- A man pressed thru the crowd of people to get to us for prayer. I looked at his face and it was a look of horror. He said that he really believed he was going to die. He was a Christian. He was full of fear and his heart was pounding right out of his chest, you could see it. I explained his position as child of The King and the lie he was buying. We prayed in agreement as we went thru deliverance. I had my hand on his heart and this was so cool. It felt like it was going to come out of his chest at first, then it began to slow down and receded back into the chest until it seemed totally normal. The peace of God flooded over him and he rejoiced knowing that the enemy was defeated and he was NOT going to die.
- I ended the prayer time tonight with a blind baby that got her sight back while in momma's arms. Come on, does it get any better than this?

Casey:

Ahhhhhh our last night of crusade here in Bumbo and Tony turned it over to me. I really thought he was going to take this one home, but surprise. The Holy Spirit gave me a word to share tonight and it was on salvation. As I was preaching the crowd was hanging on every word and no one was talking or moving around. At the end of the message I had given an altar call but to my surprise no one responded. As I looked over the crowd you could see the Holy Spirit tugging on a bunch of their hearts, but they wouldn't move. We invited them several times to come, but still nothing. The pastor that was interpreting even said I can see they want to come but I don't understand why they are just standing there. Oh well it's not up to me what happens, all I was to do is give the word I got and the rest was up to God. So instead of having a staring contest with the crowd I moved into giving out words of knowledge and moved into a time of prayer. Now when we were praying for the people I was asking if they had Jesus and almost all of them said no. Go figure, so we led them to Jesus, lots of muslims. I got to pray for some real cool stuff tonight like this young girl that broke her arm three weeks ago and it was still all swollen and she couldn't move it. After prayer the swelling was almost all gone and she was moving her wrist all around pain free. I also got to pray for four different women that all had tumors in their stomachs. You know it is so cool to watch these things shrink and disappear and for the women to go hunting for them. I even had a Muslim woman come up for prayer for tormenting spirits and chest pain. I told her that Jesus would heal her and He did and she asked if I would pray against the tormenting spirits. I told her that she needed Jesus first before I could pray for that but she refused and walked away. I felt as if she was sent into the meeting to see if this Jesus we were preaching about was real or not. Well at least she got to feel the healing touch before she walked away. Too bad she missed the best part. I also got to pray for a boy that was deaf in one ear and couldn't see very well and God touched him and he was healed instantly. Wow what a night. Thanks again for all your prayers. Later

Fredrick:

I got to warm up the platform for Casey tonight. I was so good. Many Muslims received Jesus tonight, but tonight it was as they came for prayer and not when we gave a general call.

A young lady had a tumor on her stomach and she had not seen her monthly period for many years. Every time it was time for her period she just received bad back aches. She had serious pain when she came. After prayer the back ache had gone and the tumor totally disappeared. Where do you think the tumors go?

A diabetic lady came with her whole body aching. The left side of her arm was numb and when we touched it, she could feel nothing. The rest of her left side was paralyzed. Her feet were swollen and aching. We prayed and rebuked the spirit of diabetes; everything disappeared except that both of her legs felt heavy. We told her to start walking. As she walked the heaviness disappeared and the swelling disappeared.

A young man who was involved in an accident, as fell from a tree and he hurt his back and there was a swelling that came from the back into the stomach. I could feel the swelling. I prayed and felt there was bitterness in his heart. He said yes, so I led him thru deliverance. At the end of deliverance the swelling totally disappeared. All Glory to God!

An old man said his children were being pursued and people were trying to kill them. When he came he had no peace and was really troubled in his mind. I led him into confession for forgiveness for his children. Then we blessed the children. Then his total face changed and he left there so very happy.

A young girl came complaining of chest pain. She had a baby and the baby does not sleep at night, cries all night due to nightmares. She named her child after the grandmother and all the problems with her grandmother were now on the baby. I led the mother in deliverance and the baby looked different and at that moment the mother's chest that was swelled up all the swelling left and the pain left. I asked the lady if she was saved and she said "no, my mother did that so I am ok!" I told her that she needed to receive Jesus and she did.
